Auburndale and Memphis:

a history of change.

On the banks of the Mississippi, a small river town grew into a thriving metropolis. Many important people were involved in her history such as John Overton and Boss Crump. Memphis underwent many changes and gradually expanded beyond her old borders, the Parkways.

In 1966, Mary Alice Smith founded The Auburndale School. With twelve students in a few small churchrooms, Auburndale became the first school in Tennessee devoted to children with minor learning disabilities.

As Memphis grew from a small town to a large city Auburndale also grew. Moving from Union Ave. to Shady Grove Church and then to Sienna College, Auburndale had an enrollment of students ranging from kindergarten to eighth grade. Once the school was settled, Mrs. Smith added a "regular" program to Auburndale to protect it from the stigma of being only a special education school. Eventually a high school curriculum was added and the school moved to its present location at 2100 Germantown Road. At its new location, Auburndale produced their first graduating class in 1976.

Many changes have taken place since that time. The athletic program has shown consistent progress throughout the years and a gifted program has been added to enhance the students knowledge and appreciation of academic subjects as well as the fine arts.

Like the miracle of a small river town growing into a large and productive city, Auburndale has also grown from a small class of twelve students, into a highly respected school system with an enrollment of over 700.

English

The English program, under the supervision of Ms. Ellen Burns, stresses the essentials of grammar along with the reading of classic and modern literature. The staff members work closely with their students to increase both the knowledge and appreciation of the English language. Poetry, novels, and short stories are being taught in the middle and upper schools while lower school students learn the basic literary skills and begin the process of broadening their vocabulary.

Social Studies

Being in history class at Auburndale is not just learning the constitution. Classes incorporate economics, science, politics, and other practical knowledge along with world culture. Under the direction of Mrs. Sandra Hallford, the history department offers a range of classes such as World History, Government/Economics, American History, and Sociology/Psychology.

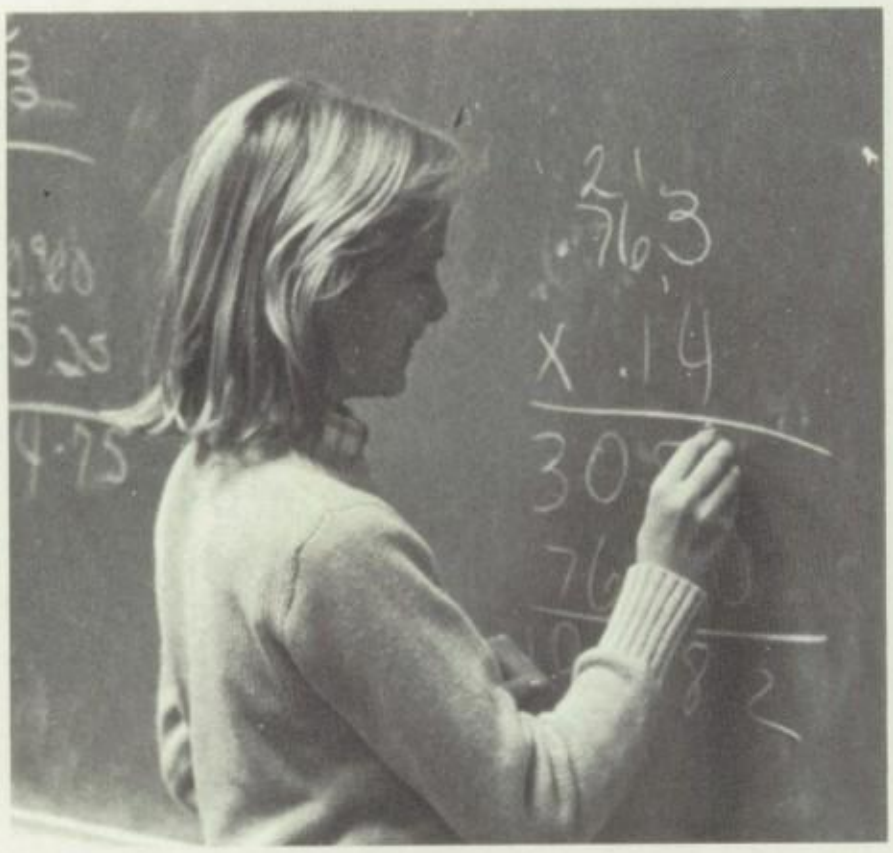
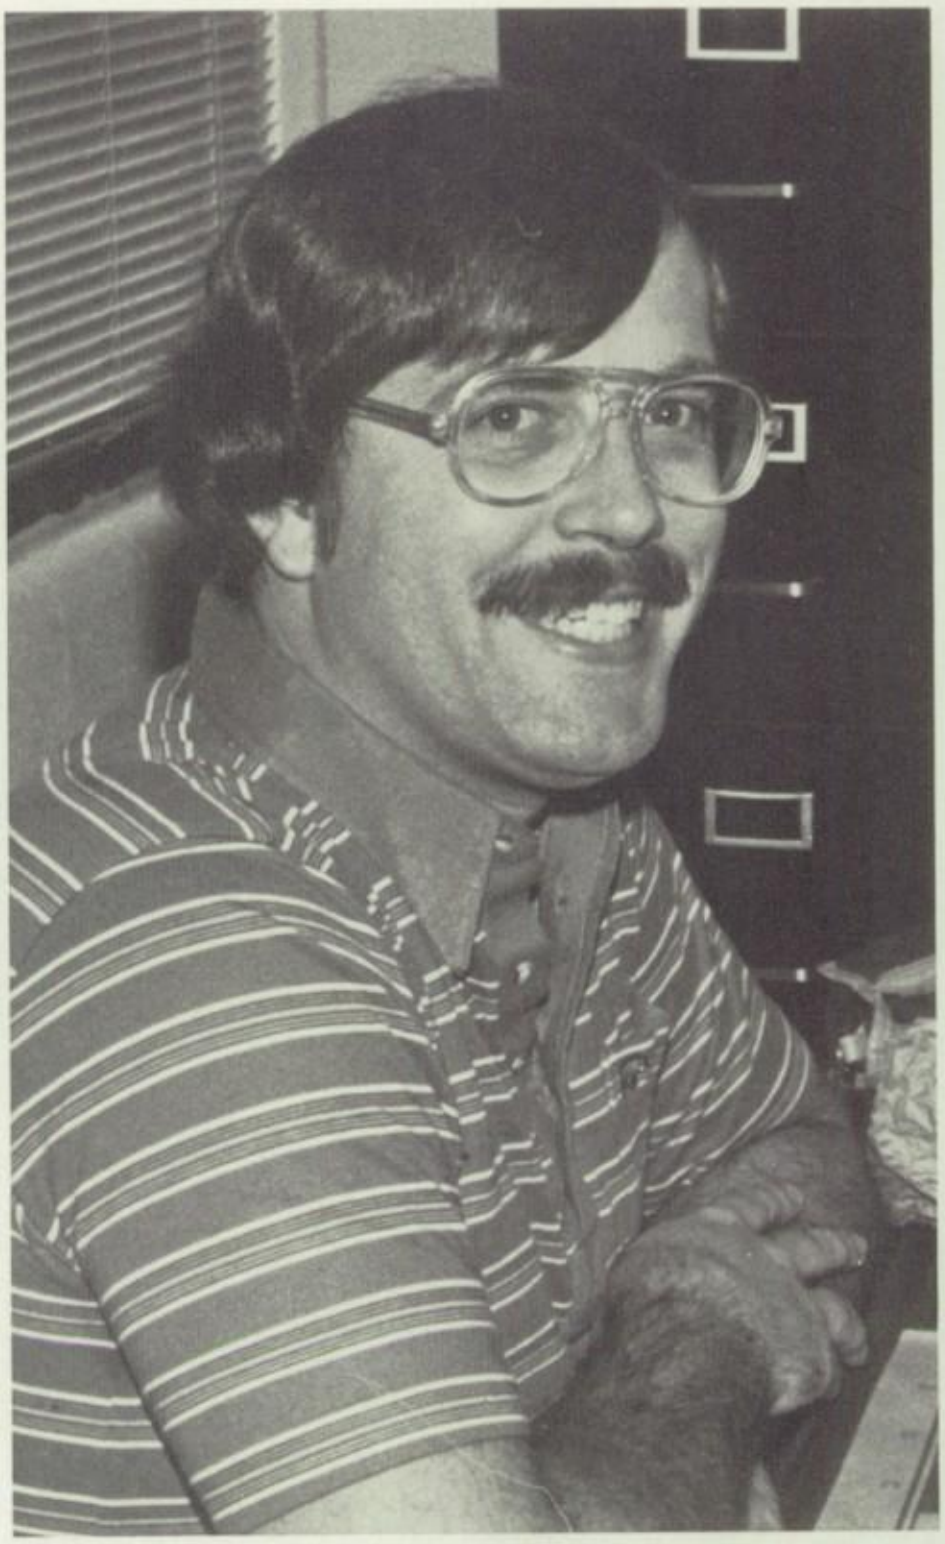
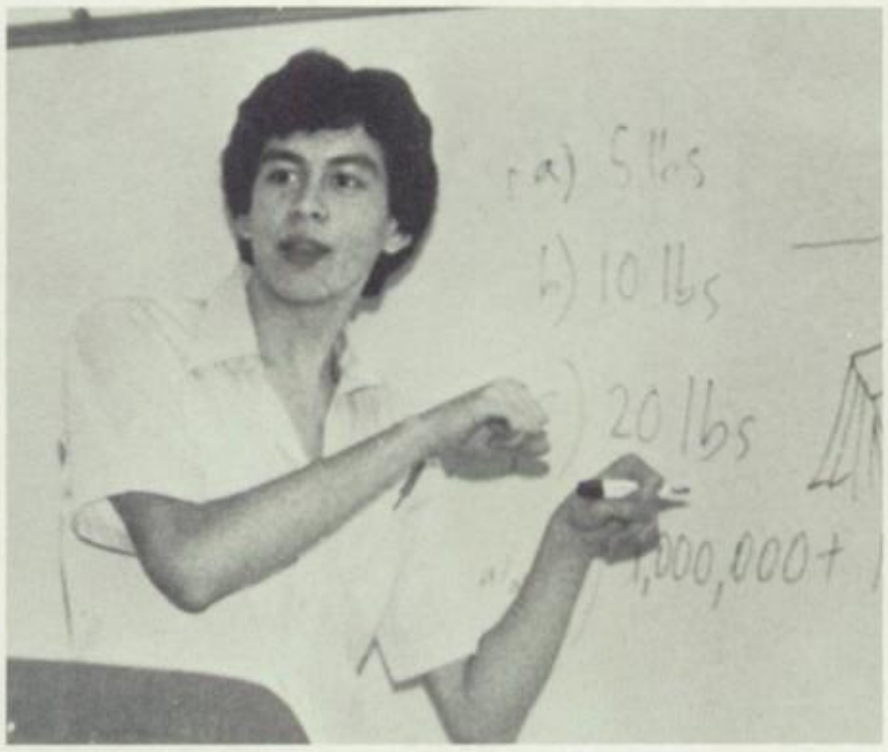
Mathematics

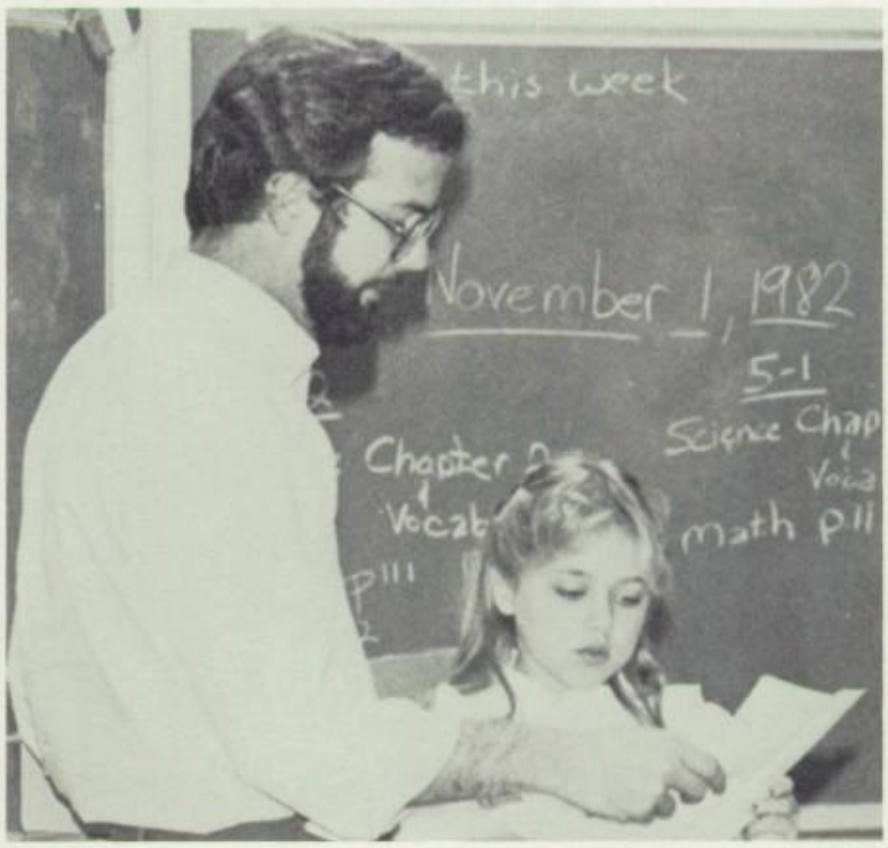


Under the direction of Mr. Dale Flickinger, the math department experienced a very productive year. Six new Apple II computers are now being used in the classroom to familiarize students with the fundamentals of computer programming.



Science



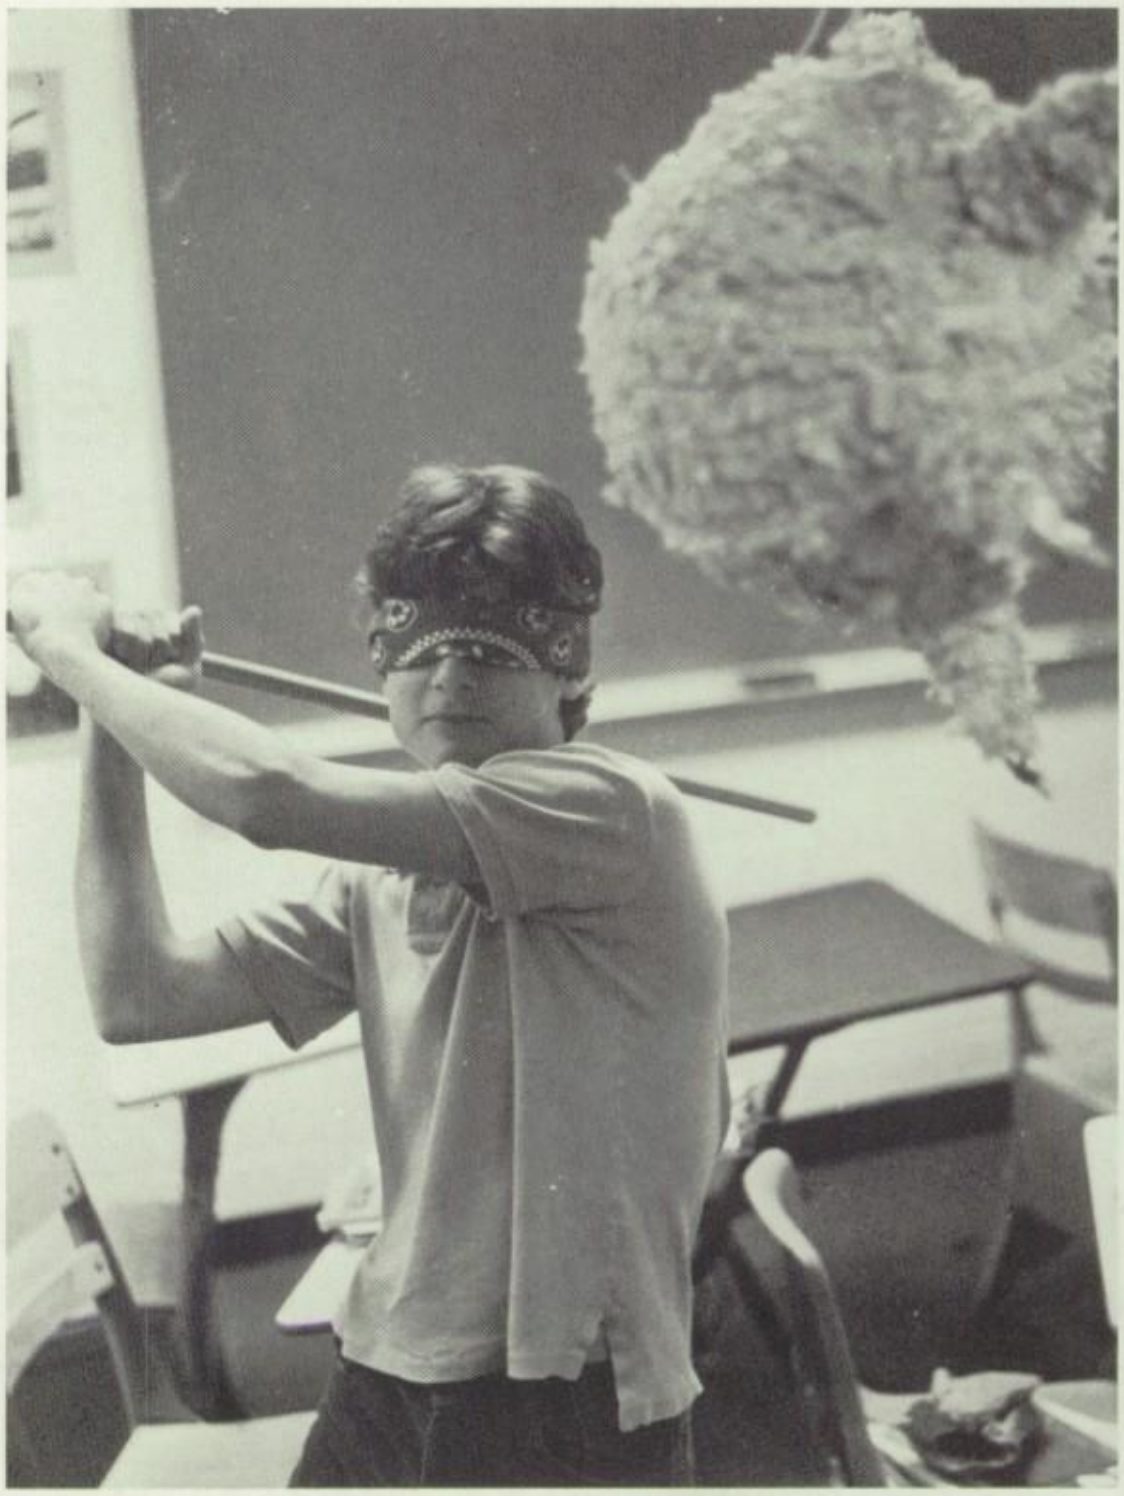


The science department emphasizes scientific inquiry by students so they can discover and interpret scientific knowledge and learn how it applies to the solution of current and future problems in a scientific age.

Foreign Language

Foreign language study begins early at Auburndale. Third and fourth graders receive French instruction from foreign language coordinator Mrs. Barbara Hardin. Spanish is offered to students in grades five through twelve and Latin instruction is available at the high school level.

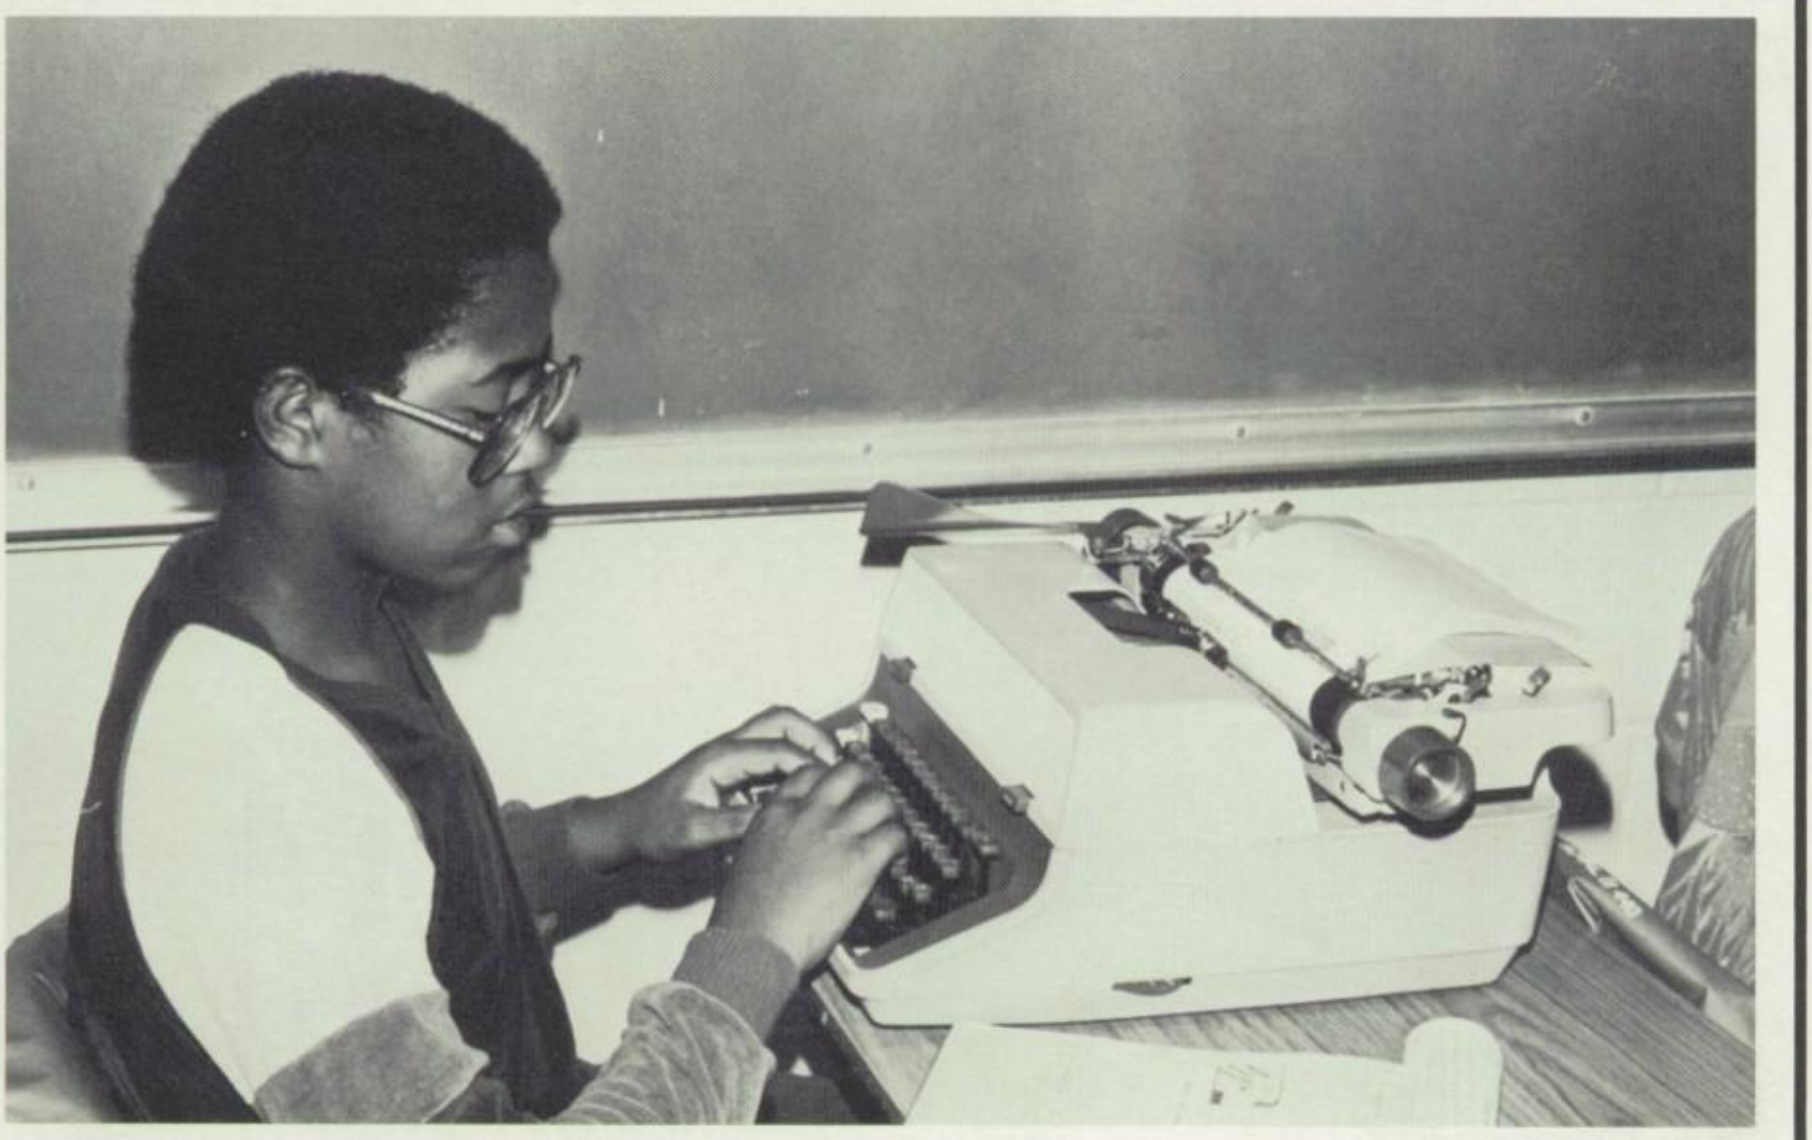
As well as stressing proper accent and fluency, Auburndale's foreign language teachers emphasize a thorough knowledge of the culture and history behind the language.



Strictly Business

Auburndale offers business courses within its curriculum including typing, consumer education, general business, marketing and cooperative education.

These courses do not attempt to train a student in a particular vocation but rather to lay a foundation of business expertise at the college level.



Fine Arts

The Fine Arts department provides a year-round showcase of entertainment for the students and faculty at Auburndale. The department is divided into four sections: drama, which is headed by Mr. Tom Ford; music under Mrs. Linda Davis; art, Mrs. Carolyn Moss; and dance, Pat Ferguson.

Their array of productions began in the fall with a One Act play staged by the upper school students followed by the "Little Theater's" production of Hansel and Gretel.

The season was completed with the spring musical Oliver. In addition, the Fine Arts department provided the entertainment for Brotherhood Week and all holiday programs.

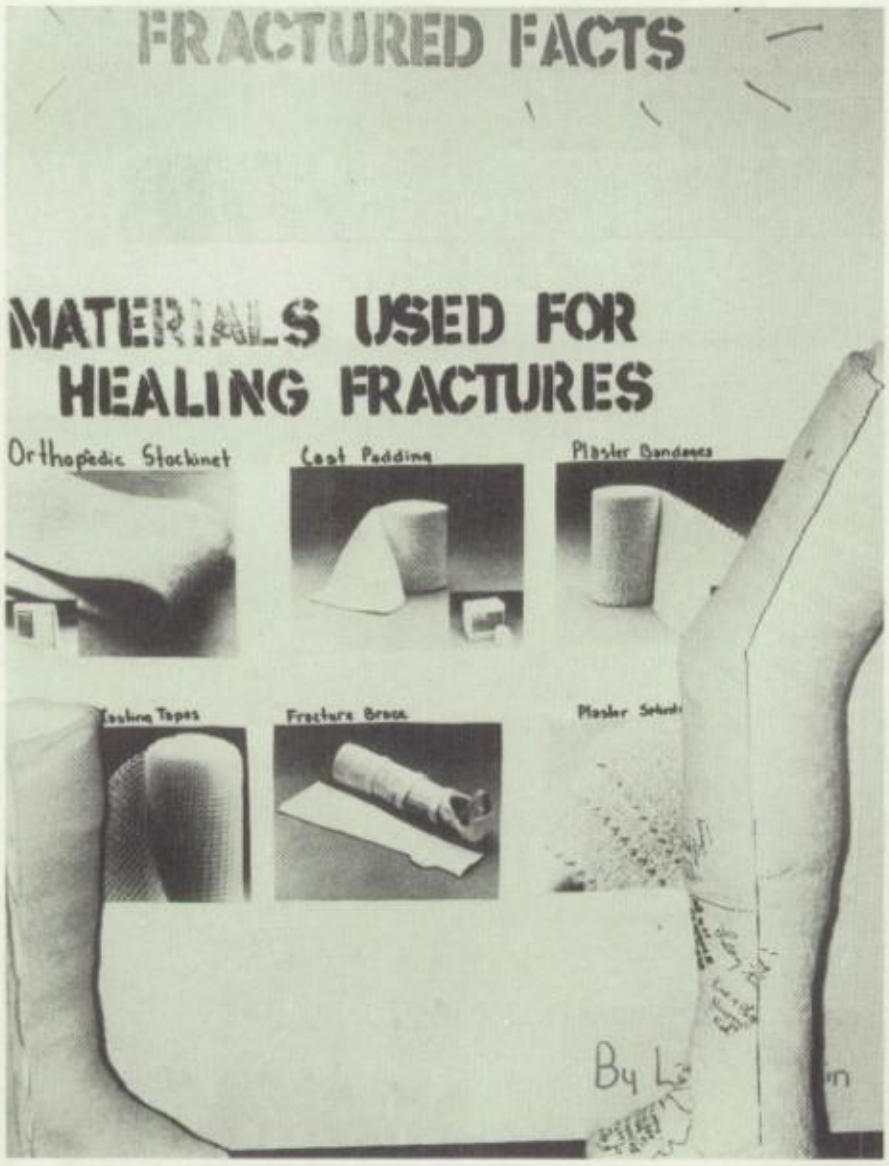
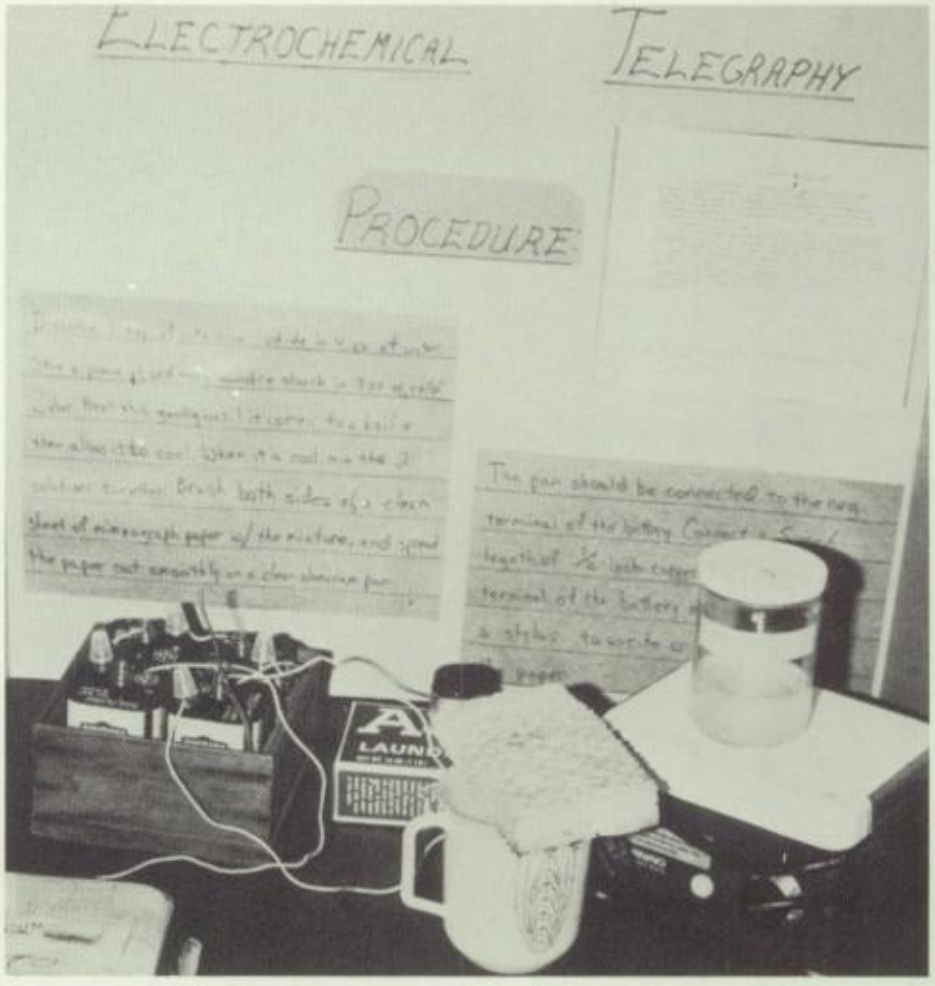
Auburndale Science Fair Is Tremendous Success





The Auburndale Science Fair, which was held February 21, 1983, was a tremendous success.

Students from grades 5-12 participated.

Thirty-nine students were awarded ribbons. The best overall project was awarded to Jim Saliba for his project, "Goldenseal Herb as an Antibiotic."

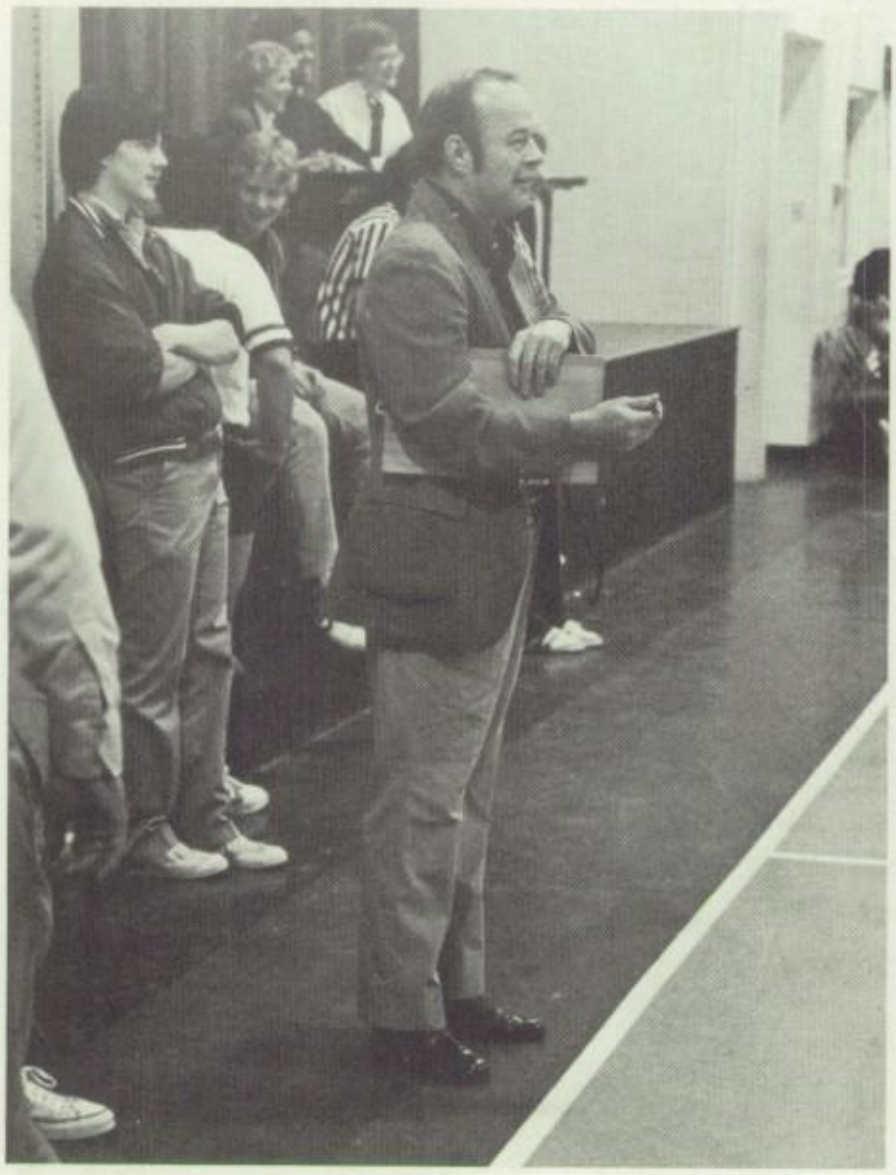
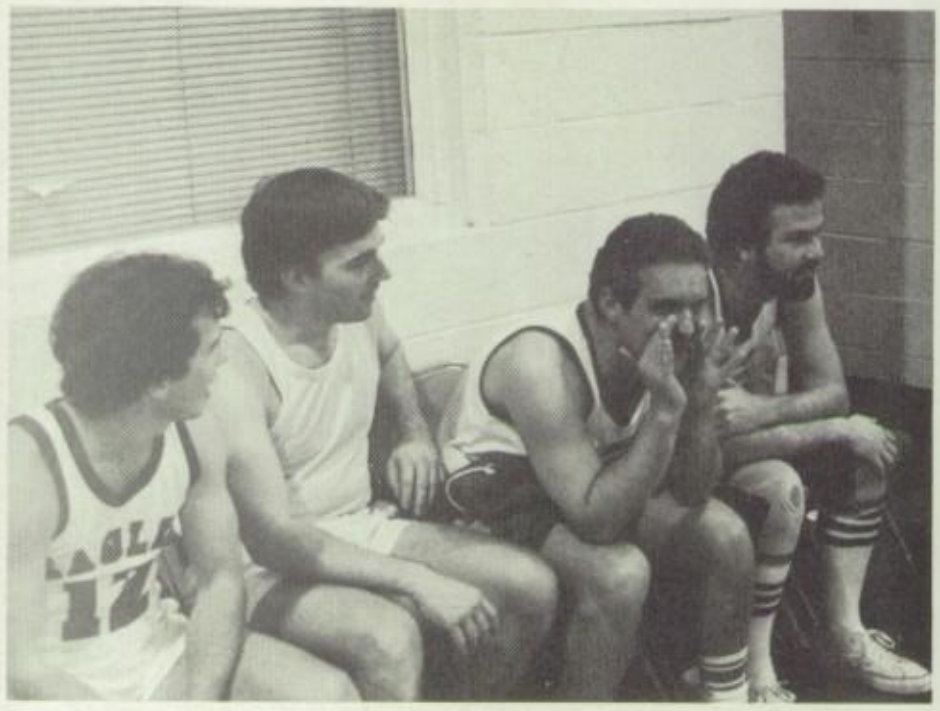
Foul Shots





The FM 100 Foul Shots visited Auburndale on Monday, February 14, only to have their hopes for a victory dashed by the awesome strength of Dr. John T. Rutland's faculty basketball team. During halftime the FM 100 crew gave away record albums and FM 100 tee shirts to lucky ticket holders.

An Evening of Entertainment

On November 16-17 the Upper School Fine Arts Dept. presented a one act play titled "The Belles of Horsefly Gulch." This "Evening of Entertainment" began with a musical ensemble led by Mr. David Scearce and was followed by the one act play. The "old-fashioned melodrama" gave Auburndale thespians an early opportunity to display their acting skills.

1983 Prom Was A

Smashing Success

As usual, Auburndale's junior-senior prom was a night to remember. It was a night of craziness. For the upperclassmen it was the first time that their chains had been unshackled since August, but anyone who was there could tell that being chained up all winter had not made them forget how to have a good time.

Homecoming

Upper School Homecoming spirit week began with an exceptional basketball game and was followed by an after-game dance, that shook the gym. One of the highlights of the homecoming festivities was the crowning of the Homecoming King and Queen (David Lawrence and Missy Gigliotti). Another high point was the annual wall decorating contest, which the freshmen won.

In their first year at the varsity level, the Auburndale football team compiled a 6-4 winning record. The team began the season by marching to six victories, but stiffer competition at the season's end broke the winning streak. Still, the fact remains that for the first time in Auburndale's history a varsity team has completed the season with a winning record.

In their first year, the Auburndale Junior High football team finished the season with an impressive 4-3 record. The Junior High Eagles were led by a newcomer to Auburndale, Coach Bubba Wesche who was assisted by veteran Coach Mark Vigus. The future of Auburndale football looks promising in the hands of these talented young athletes.

This year's boys basketball team accomplished what no one thought they could; they broke the school's season victory record. Coach Bill Russell's Eagles battled to 12 regular season victories, including key wins over archrivals E.C.S. and F.A.C.S. The team was led by senior captain Brent Barrett and junior stand-out Kerry Biles.

Lower School Clue Follows the Yellow Brick Road

The First and Second Grade CLUE classes performed The Wizard of Oz for lower school students and faculty as one of their many projects. Under the direction of Mrs. Debbie Kriger, these children were able to develop and to gain early experience in the fundamental and technical aspects of acting.

Above Right: Cole Whitaker as the Tinman, and Craig Royal as the Monkey. Bottom Right: Mollie Curlin as the Lion, and Matt Winstead as the Scarecrow.

Desiderata

Go placidly amid the noise and haste and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story.

Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans.

Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism.

Be yourself. Especially, do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass.

Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself.

You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.

Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul.

With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy.

The 1982-83 School Year was not an easy one, but it was one we will never forget. Looking back on the year, it was hard to believe that neither one of us had any previous experience in editing an annual, but as time went by, we began to understand the job and all that it entailed. The long hours were difficult but, pulling together, we accomplished our goal.

Without the support and guidance of our sponsor, Mrs. Chris Shinebarger, this yearbook would not exist. Through her patience and understanding, she helped us achieve our goal we were striving for; to produce the best yearbook Auburndale has ever had.

The job was an experience in itself, but we would not have given it up for the world. We would also like to thank the journalism staff and those few juniors who came in at the middle of the year. They took all our criticism and used it to the best of their ability. We hope you enjoy your 1982-83 Talon as much as we enjoyed putting it together.

Best of luck to the 83-84 Talon Staff,
Laurie and Lynn
